

FACTIONS UNITE TO GREET WILSON

Democratic Candidate Is Given Enthusiastic Demonstration in Chicago.

ADDRESSES LARGE CROWDS

In Two Speeches He Discusses Serious Issues Now at Stake.

Chicago, October 10.—All factions of Illinois Democracy marched side by side to-day and cheered Governor Woodrow Wilson, the standard-bearer of the national ticket. From the moment of arrival until late to-night, when the Governor departed for Ohio, his reception was one of noisy demonstration and enthusiasm. As he rode the densely-crowded streets on his arrival he stood in his automobile and waved to thousands who dotted the windows of factories and offices, and a moving mass of people who trailed along beside.

The Governor recovered his voice sufficiently to make an extended speech at a theatre at noon, but was unable to reach the crowd that gathered at the Seventh Regiment Armory to-night.

"No, no, don't put anybody out," said the Governor quickly, and the crowd gradually quieted itself.

"I have been greatly exhilarated as I have passed from one part of this nation to another," said the nominee, "by the generous cheers of the people that greet me. The cheers are not going to settle contests. Stupid principle, clear vision, fearless thinking are going to save this nation, and nothing else, and therefore it is my duty, whenever I have the privilege of facing an audience, to call their attention to the very serious issues which are at stake, for in my judgment they are nothing less for America, than the issue of life and death."

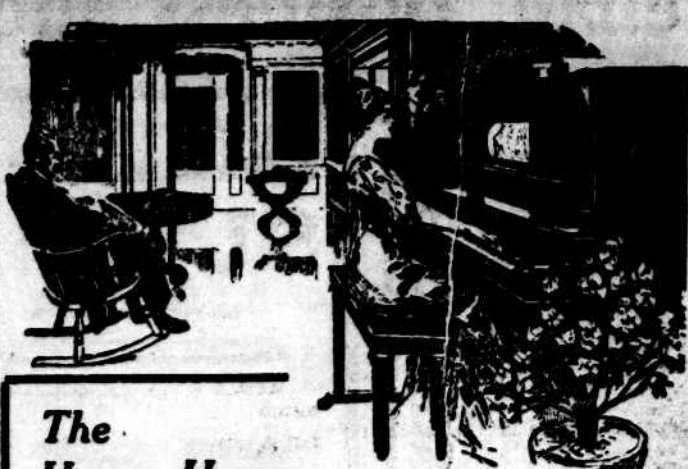

Once during the Governor's speech a voice in the gallery called, "Hurrah for Teddy," just as the speaker began to take up the plank in the progressive platform. "Just wait a minute," said the Governor, "and see if you'll feel the same after I have explained."

The Governor then lauded that part of the progressive platform which advocated humanitarian and social reforms, but declared failure of the same platform to condemn monopolies and pronounce itself explicitly in favor of tariff reform made it necessary to ask by whom and how the social parts of the program were to be accomplished. The Governor emphasized "who and how" in his question, and the crowd responded with cheers and approval.

At the Seventh Regiment Armory, Governor Wilson addressed a crowd which overflowed the building. His speech touched mainly upon the points he had discussed during the day.

The brief rest he had obtained between speeches had improved his voice, and he was able to make himself heard with little difficulty.

SPECIFIC DENIAL MADE BY WATSON

payment of poll taxes. He charges the unlawful forcing of the poll books at Edmund's Store Precinct, in Brunswick, to tally with the ballots, when four names were supplied from memory. He charges nine persons were allowed to vote in various counties for his contestant who were not entitled to vote. Five persons who were qualified to vote and did offer to vote for Judge Watson, he charges nevertheless were denied the right.

Various charges of voting of persons not qualified on account of change of residence and living in some other precinct, all of whom supported Mr. Turnbull, are made.

He charges that seven men in Surry voted for Mr. Turnbull, although they had not paid their poll taxes, and therefore were not qualified. In Lawrenceville he charges there were thirty-four allowed to vote who were not qualified for this and other reasons; at Rook's Store, two delinquents were allowed to vote; at Sturgeville Precinct, nine not on treasurer's list; at Smoky Ordinary Precinct seven not on treasurer's list; at Edmund's Store Precinct, thirteen not on treasurer's list; at Tillman's Precinct, twenty-four not on treasurer's list; at Rook's Store, eight not on treasurer's list; all were allowed to vote, and did vote for Mr. Turnbull. At Trotter's Store he charges nine votes were illegally cast.

In conclusion, Judge Watson says:

"In conclusion, I desire to say that though the primary was held on September 21, and though the name of the nominee must be placed on the official ballot twenty days before the 5th of November, contestant did not file his petition until noon of October 5, and did not file his completed petition until 10 o'clock A. M. October 9. After he filed his petition, many hours were consumed in the labor of inspecting the poll books and counting the ballots, so that though contestant had two weeks to make up alleged irregularities, I have only had twenty-four hours to answer his charges, and less than three days to take my own proof and simultaneously attend the taking of contestant's evidence. This is an undertaking of tremendous difficulty, and necessarily placed me at a certain disadvantage, both in the matter of inquiry and the obtaining of proof. I am convinced that the result of the primary was substantially and essentially fair, and that it expresses the will of a majority of the Democratic voters of the Fourth District. I offer evidence of irregularities against me not to nullify the primary, but to offset any irregularities which might have been to my advantage, and to show further that, if the strict legal test is applied, my majority is very much greater than it appears on the count. Respectfully,

WALTER A. WATSON,

Contestant.

WAR DECLARATION NOT YET ISSUED

Situation in Balkan States Meanwhile Is as Puzzling as River.

VICTORY FOR MONTENEGRO

Stronghold of Turkish Position on Detich Mountain Captured.

London, October 10.—Montenegro claims the first victory in the Balkan war by the capture of the stronghold of the Turkish position on Detich Mountain, whose commander surrendered to-day with the bulk of his forces. Montenegro also crossed the frontier near Heredina, and, according to the Turkish account, have been repulsed.

The situation meanwhile is as puzzling as before. No declaration of war has been issued by the other allied Balkan states, and there is no news yet of their ministers having left Constantinople, and it cannot be definitely said whether Montenegro has acted independently, with a motive of forcing a conflict, so as to render efforts of the powers to preserve peace nugatory, or in accordance with a strategic plan arranged by the Balkan coalition.

The powers to-day presented a collective note inviting Turkey to discuss a scheme for reforms in Macedonia. It appears, however, as though while diplomacy is trying to arrange the matters peacefully, guns will decide it for them.

Fresh Bulgarian attacks on Turkish frontier towns are reported to-night, and the opinion is growing that the opposing parties are only using diplomatic delays to concentrate their forces in readiness for the inevitable outbreak.

Captain James W. McCarriek.

Norfolk, Va., October 10.—Captain James W. McCarriek, general Southern agent for the Clyde Line, and one of the best known men in this section, died at 10:30 o'clock to-night at his residence in this city, after an illness of three months. He was sixty-nine years of age. Despite his age, Captain McCarriek, up to a few months ago, took a leading part in the business organization of this city. He was past commander of Pickett-Buchanan Camp, Confederate Veterans, and a charter member of the Norfolk Board of Trade.

TAFT ARRIVES AT DUBLIN

Dublin, N. H., October 10.—President Taft swung south from Bretton Woods, N. H., to-day to Dublin, making more than 150 miles in ten hours, with stops for many short nonpolitical speeches, presidential automobile tour of the New England. To-night the President and his party were guests at the summer home of Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh. They will leave to-morrow for Beverly.

VISITS TRACED BY HOTEL REGISTERS

Clerks From Various Cities Identify McManigal as Former Guest.

Indianapolis, Ind., October 10.—For the first time since he confessed to dynamiting Orville McManigal before a jury in the "dynamite conspiracy" trial to-day was identified by hotel clerks as having visited various cities at times when explosions occurred.

H. E. Pearce, Kansas City, Mo., in the pages of a hotel register, traced "J. W. McGraw" as having registered at a Kansas City Hotel, August 30, 1904, three days before McManigal blew up a portion of a $1,500,000 bridge across the Missouri River, which he says was arranged for by W. Bert Brown, of Kansas City, and James McManigal. Pearce identified McManigal in the courtroom as McGraw. The line of testimony was followed by the government as tending to carry out McManigal's confession that he actually caused the explosions detailed in the confession, and for which the government charges members of the executive board of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers paid him at the rate of $100 a "fix" a week.

R. J. Quigley, of Duluth, Minn., identified McManigal as a visitor at a Duluth hotel in July, 1910, shortly before an explosion at Superior, Wis.

F. W. Gates said McManigal was the "J. G. Bry" who frequently registered at a hotel at Rochester, Pa., near which later were discovered quantities of nitro-glycerine hidden in a shed.

The activities of James B. McManigal on his return to Indianapolis after blowing up the Times building also were traced in hotel registers. At the suggestion of his brother, James B. took the name of "Frank Sullivan," dropping the aliases he had used on the Pacific Coast.

In presenting great bundles of telegrams, which were identified by managers of telegraph offices from many parts of the country, but contents of which were withheld until later, government attorneys announced it would be shown that arrangements for the Pacific coast explosions were carried on by telegraph; that Olaf Twittem and Eugene A. Clancy, San Francisco, and J. E. Munger, Salt Lake City, communicated about the explosions in telegrams, and that Clancy and Munger, "worried over the search instituted for the dynamite," sent back and forth messages concerning the whereabouts of James B. McManigal.

Mrs. Vance Shaver.

She is survived by her husband and several young children, the youngest being about ten days old. The burial will take place at her former home in Asheville.

Will The REAL FREEMEN Uphold Wilson's Hands?

Woodrow Wilson has refused emphatically to accept contributions to his Campaign Fund from the Interests, from corrupting influences, from any questionable sources.

He has given us, the Democratic National Committee, to understand that he will go into the White House with clean hands or not at all.

Who Is Getting The Money of The Trusts?

So sure has been Wilson's stand, so well known his incorruptible purpose, that no private interests have dared to approach either our candidate or his committee.

We have not been offered a penny by the trusts, and we certainly have not solicited a penny from them. The money of the Interests is being spent against Wilson. No matter for whom—we need not discuss that here—it is now common gossip that the money power of the nation is being used in an attempt to defeat Woodrow Wilson.

What Is a "People's Campaign?"

We are addressing ourselves to the real freemen of America, the upright, Progressive Voters of the country who are doing the work of the nation and not the work of trusts and bosses.

We realize that the salvation of every righteous cause rests with you.

Often this cry of a People's Party or a People's President is raised by the very forces we seek to defeat and whom we must and will defeat. But look to our standard and our standard bearer and decide yourself as to which is the People's Campaign and must, therefore, be fought with the People's money.

Woodrow Wilson Has Clean Hands

Woodrow Wilson is the cleanest man in national politics. He came of illustrious forefathers, who laid by blood and heredity the foundation of a future President through generation after generation of upright record.

If Wilson is to be elected it must be by clean money and there is only one source of such money—from the voters of the country who realize the importance of having a government uninfluenced by the almighty dollar.

Wilson's hands are clean.

Will you uphold them?

How Much Money Will You Give? How Much Can You Raise?

There are big campaign expenses to be met if we are to win on Election Day in November. We must tell the voters of the country about Wilson, what he is, what he has done. We must show them his record. We must show them his platform. We must point out to them the features of his platform which mean so much to this nation. This great work will cost a lot of money. We must meet the usual heavy toll necessary to present a platform and a candidate to a hundred million.

Your dollar, your $5, your $10, your $20 is needed. And don't mistake—we want the man who can only afford the one dollar. We need him. We need the woman who can only give one dollar. We believe in this kind of loyalty—it's the kind that wins.

Let every one contribute to the Woodrow Wilson Campaign by the first mail. Let's have as big a fund as the corporations can supply the other parties. For the people who might even in money than the combinations—what they get together.

A Call To Those Who Will Club Contributions

No live progressive voter can do more for Wilson's cause than to head a list with his own contribution and then to have his fellow-workers and friends swell the total with their names and money.

If you work in an office or factory, mill, warehouse, on a railroad, ranch or farm, start the ball rolling. Line up the Wilson men. Sign up as many contributions as you can. And mail to us.

News of South Richmond

South Richmond Bureau.
The Times-Dispatch,
1620 Hull Street,
Phone Madison 174.

Four days without an accident, without a single report of disorder and with only one arrest is a record which, according to Desk Sergeant J. A. Lipscomb, of the Third District, has never been surpassed in the entire period of his connection with the department. In times past, according to Captain Lipscomb, as he will always be known, the Southside generally reaped a harvest from the visitors who had strayed from the straight path, and the night watchmen and the patrolmen were called upon to deal with the lawless element who had lured to the Fair. Things this year have been an exception, and he is not able to account for the change.

A substitution of the Richmond post-office will be opened in Woodland Heights next Tuesday morning. The location, which was the unanimous choice of the Woodland Heights Citizens League, is at Wood's store, Twenty-eighth and Semmes Avenue. R. G. Wood, Jr., will be the clerk in charge. Money orders will be issued, packages and letters registered, and mail delivered to those not desiring the service of the carriers who will start their gutties the same day.

Finest for Disorderly Conduct.

Charles Roeder, of Chesterfield County, charged with being disorderly in Price's restaurant on Hull Street, was yesterday fined $250 and costs when his case was called before Justice H. A. Maurice in Police Court, Part II. Roeder, admitting that he was intoxicated at the time, willingly paid the costs of a broken showcase, which he had fallen through.

Special Policemen III.

Overcome by an attack of indigestion while cycling his best, W. A. Gilmont, a special policeman, appointed for Fair week, yesterday morning fell at Twelfth and Hull streets. He was picked up and carried into a drugstore, where he was given treatment. He was later taken to his home at Nineteenth and Sublette streets. He was reported last night as slightly better, but will probably be under the care of his family physician for some days.

Cost to Residents.

Both time and place for the weekly sessions of Magistrate L. W. Chestnut's court have been changed. Beginning this morning at 10 o'clock the court will convene every Friday morning in Rhy's Hall, Swanboro.

The new court-room is located at the end of the Hull Street car line, and is at the forks of three important county roads. The old court in Oak Grove was always inaccessible, and the change came at the suggestion of attorneys and business people having dealings with the court. "Squire" G. Cowan, of Oak Bluff, will continue to act for Magistrate Chestnut.

Sell Hull Street Property.

Claude E. Sprinkle yesterday transferred to Louis Blagi, according to a deed of bargain and sale recorded in Hastings County, Part II, his interest in three parcels of Hull Street property known as 111, 112 and 113 Hull Street, with a total frontage of sixty-six feet and depth of 150 feet. The price was placed at $10 and other valuable considerations, although it is said that the property probably brought about $14,000.

Small Attendance.

Because of the small attendance, occasioned by the Fair, the meeting of the Citizens League of Woodland Heights last night adjourned without transacting any business of importance. The next meeting will be held in two weeks.

Burial of Mrs. Wood.

The funeral of Mrs. R. A. Wood, who died Tuesday morning at her home in Chesterfield County, near South Richmond, was held yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from Hull Lane Church. The interment was in the church burying-ground.

Funeral Notice.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Remie have returned from their wedding tour, and are now at home to their friends.

L. C. Fulton, of Covington, Ky., is visiting his sister, Mrs. S. T. Jacobs.

Charles F. Atwell.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Salisbury, N. C., October 10.—Following a stroke of paralysis sustained a week ago, Charles F. Atwell, one of the oldest citizens of Salisbury, died at his home here last night. He was seventy years old, was an honorably discharged soldier, a member of Company F, Thirty-third Regiment North Carolina Troops, and won distinction in the Civil War, and at his death was a merchant. He is survived by a wife and several children, besides several brothers.
